

What is Sea Buckthorn?

Sea Buckthorn (Hippophae rhamnoides L.) is a berry-bearing plant belongs to the family of elaeagnaceae. It is commonly known as Sea Buckthorn, Sandthorn or SeaBerry. Amazingly, Sea Buckthorn drink has been reported as the official beverage for Chinese athletes at the Seoul Olympic Games in 1988. Russian cosmonauts were also supplied with Sea Buckthorn beverage to enhance their health and resistance to stress in the space. Due to the extraordinary function and long history use of Sea Buckthorn, it is praised as one of the most amazing berries and super-fruit in the world.

Sea Buckthorn is among the most nutritious and vitamin-rich fruit found in the plant kingdom. It has a unique composition that forms a combined cocktail of valuable nutrients and bioactive components, in which are usually only found separately in different plants.
